

Chris Key has been involved in the color guard activity for over 30 years. He began his career as a member of the Sentinal Independent A winter guard and graduated from Jacksonville State University where he was a member of the color guard serving as color guard coordinator for the Marching Southerners his last year. Chris has been the director of colorguards at Starr's Mill High School, Jonesboro High School, Fayette County High School and Whitewater High School. He is also a 10 year member of the Atlanta CV color guard. Currently, Chris is the assistant principal at Fayette County High School and he lives in Fayetteville with his husband, Chuck, and their two fur babies, Sammy and Tonka.